

There is no right for a company to harrass people in the privacy of thier own homes. Telephone calls from these companies have crossed the line. Getting rid of our do not call list will only force more people to abandon thier land lines. The right to privacy is greater than thier right to harrass us.